This is one of the very first tunes I ever worked out. I must have been about fourteen years of age, and I got it off an old John Renbourne LP. although it is supposed to have been written by rev. Gary Davis in 1905. I was already playing classical guitar by that time so the ragtime technique came quite easy to me. The playing style is called 'Claw Hammer'. If you want to know more about this style my new book on finger style guitar will be ouso
I think that the last four bars sound like pure Ragtime.
